Comparative Statistics

Object of Farm Census

The 1974 Census of Agriculture being conducted by the Bureau of the Census will bring up to date farm statistics collected for the year 1969 when the last farm census was taken.

J.J A. Smith, County Extension Agent, says that cooperation from every farm and ranch operator is needed in order to insure an accurate measurement of changes in Appomattox County. Farm Business records are to be used in filling out the report form, but when records are not available, reasonable estimates are fully acceptable. He stresses that the Census Bureau must have a good report from each operator if county records are to be complete and accurate. The report forms (questionnaires), mailed out about January 1, should be filled out and mailed back as early as possible.

Nothing is revealed in the published reports that might disclose information about an individual operator. The data are combined into county and state totals that provide benchmarks for keeping up with changes in farming. The Census of Agriculture, taken every five years, is the only source of statistics on agriculture that are comparable, county by county, on a nationwide basis.

The 1969 census counted 513 farms in Appomattox county; 239 reported selling $2,500 or more of agricultural products, and 9 reported sales of $40,000 or more. The market value of all agricultural products sold amounted to $2,448,360, an average of $4,772 per farm.

CVCA Gets Grant For Emergency Fuel

No elderly person in Central Virginia should go cold this winter. A Federal grant has been awarded to the Central Virginia Commission on Aging for the purpose of providing fuel for the elderly in an emergency, the director of the Commission, Dr. Samuel Tilden Habel, has announced. Funds are available to meet emergency situations in Amherst County, Appomattox County, Bedford County, Campbell County and the Cities of Lynchburg and Bedford.

A network of contact persons for Planning District II has been set up. Cooperating fuel dealers in each section of the District have been alerted, and coal, fuel oil, wood, bottled gas, or electricity will be delivered according to specific needs. To qualify for emergency fuel the applicant must be 60 years of age or older; the situation must be one of a clear and immediate emergency, and the recipient must be provided with an opportunity to contribute to the partial or total cost of the service. Dr. Habel states: "This is an emergency program, not a welfare program. Often older people cannot get the service they need even though they can pay for it. Shortages create emergencies. Of course, if there is an elderly person who faces an emergency and is out of funds the program will take care of him. If any concerned citizen in the four counties and two cities of our district knows of an elderly prson who has an emergency need for fuel, all he has to do is to call the Information and Referral Center in Lynchburg (804) 845-8016) and they will supply the name and telephone number of the proper contact person. Then if he will call this person, they will take care of the situation at once."

"There are approximately 25,000 persons past 60 in our area. Many live alone, lack transportation, or are sick, are handicapped. There is no reason for them to suffer when help from the community can meet the emergency needs of the elderly in our area."
